

HFW HALF CASE

AUGUST 2020 ROSE

LOVE YOU BUNCHES 2019, SANTA BARBARA CO., CALIFORNIA 16.99 Over 20 years ago, the founding partner, Thomas Stolpman, discovered what he believed to be one of the greatest viticultural sites on earth. Hidden in the hills of California's Central Coast, on a rare limestone outcropping & unobstructed from the Pacific Ocean wind, this unique land is ideally suited to grow Sangiovese grapes. Stolpman's quest for a crushable, super fresh Rose is HERE! We are VERY excited to present this limited release Rose!

PATAGONIA VINES 2019, CURICO VALLEY, CHILE $14.99 Patagonia Vines brings to you this crisp rosé that caters to those looking for a new and fresh experience in this wine category. Originating from Curicó Valley region of Chile; Patagonia Vines Rosé is made from 50% Gamacha, 50% Petit Verdot varieties. 100% handpicked, these grapes are destemmed, crushed and put through a short cold maceration for several hours. The grape juice is then drained to a separate tank for its spontaneous alcoholic fermentation. Aged on lees for 3 months to provide texture, Patagonia Vines Rosé affords you the chance to experience this vibrant and exciting expression of Curicó Valley, Chile and Patagonia backcountry.

INAZIO URRUZOLA TXAKOLINA 2019, BASQUE COUNTRY, SPAIN $17.99 In the heart of Basque Country, the area that sits atop of Spain along the northern Atlantic Coast and is known for its wild lands, own language and culinary awards, is also home to premiere vineyards. Wines from Txakolina have a zesty spritz- so perfect for the blazing hot days of summer. With lively acidity, this wine has aromas of wild forest berries. The low alcohol means you can enjoy the wine with very little after effects (stay hydrated though!) If you are looking for something FUN to drink at the pool, beach, or lake, THIS is your bottle.

MAISON SALEYA 2019, COTEAUX-D'AIX-EN-PROVENCE, FRANCE $14.99 Provence is globally recognized as THE leader in Rose. In fact, the Provencal style is often replicated in California, Italy, and Spain. Maison Saleya is named after the flower market in the beautiful French port city of Nice on the shores of the Mediterranean. Their wines are crafted from grapes grown at the foot of Montagne Sainte-Victoire in Provence. This unique terroir features abundant sunshine that is moderated by Provence's famous Mistral winds. With fresh exotic fruit on the palate and a pleasantly long finish, this wine can be served with anything and everything!

CHATEAU SAINTE EULALIE 'PRINTEMPS D'EULALIE' 2019, MINERVOIS, FRANCE $17.99 The Minervois wines of Isabelle Coustel have been one of my favorites vintage after vintage! Her Rosé is a blend of Syrah/Cinsault/Grenache/Mourvedre. Fruity on the nose and palate with strawberry and red licorice leading the way to a soft, dry finish of lingering fruit. This pale pink is decidedly delish, giving a full bodied mouthfeel to go with the tasty watermelon, blood orange and wild strawberry fruit flavors. Balanced and zesty, this will work quite nicely with or without food!

CAMPUGET 2018, RHONE VALLEY, FRANCE $12.99 With its dark rose hue, this pink wine from Southern France offers up a bouquet ripe red raspberries and blackcurrants. Well-rounded with a robust finish, this is a bottle made for barbecue and sunny afternoons. A well crafted blend of Syrah and Vermentino, this wine derives its name from the earliest dated mention in a document found at the Chateau! It's principal characteristic is its soil formed of 'gress', an accumulation of rounded pebbles that have been rolled by many overflows of the Rhône river thousands of years ago.
